

Marine Corps Logistics Command holds its 11th annual Employee Recognition Day

Robin Berry | ODO | Marine Corps Logistics Command | October 20, 2015

Albany, GA – On October 15, 2015, the Marine Corps Logistics Command (LOGCOM) held its 11th annual Employee Recognition Day (ERD) at Covella Pond aboard the Marine Corps Logistics Base in Albany, GA. Under clear blue skies, several hundred LOGCOM employees gathered at the amphitheater to hear MajGen Craig C. Crenshaw, Commanding General, LOGCOM, thank them for their dedication and hard work during the past year. After his remarks, MajGen Crenshaw presented several awards to well-deserving LOGCOM employees, followed by an afternoon filled with team building events, which over the years have become quite competitive.

Marine Corps Logistics Command (LOGCOM) employees gather together to kick-off LOGCOM's Employee Recognition Day 2015 at Covella Pond on October 15, 2015.

LOGCOM's Command, Control, Communications and Computers (C4) Department hosted this year's event. Mr. Hal Gobin, Director of C4, said, "This year C4 had the distinct pleasure to host the 2015 LOGCOM ERD. It was a privilege to observe the ceremony and witness the well-deserving individuals and teams that were awarded, but also to take the day to thank each and every LOGCOM employee for their hard work and dedication. All seemed to enjoy the ceremony, fellowship, and games and for me personally, it was very satisfying to see the level of comradery within the command. LOGCOM employees came together as a family and paid tribute to not only the award winners, but to each and every employee, all of whom have made a difference in the lives of our Marines, particularly those in the operational forces. I also want to give a special thanks to Major Frank Sierra and the ERD Committee for their efforts in making this day festive and creating a memorable day for the LOGCOM team. This year's event was absolutely remarkable due to the hard work and dedication of the organizers and all the employees that participated in the team building events."

Each year, as part of the awards ceremony, a former LOGCOM employee is inducted into the LOGCOM Hall of Fame. This year's honoree was the late Mrs. Lyndia Sue Wright. Mrs. Wright, former Director of the Weapon Systems Management Center, retired from federal service on October 3, 2013 after 36 years of faithful service. Her husband, Mr. Carror "C" Wright, accepted the award on her behalf.

MajGen Craig C. Crenshaw, Commanding General, Marine Corps Logistics Command (LOGCOM), presents the LOGCOM Hall of Fame award to Mr. Carror "C" Wright on behalf of his late wife, Mrs. Lyndia Sue Wright. Mrs. Wright retired from LOGCOM on October 3, 2013 after 36 years of faithful federal service.

After the Hall of Fame award presentation, Mr. Gobin commented "I would be remiss if I didn't acknowledge Ms. Lyndia Sue Wright and her contributions to the Command - while heartbreaking that she is no longer with us, it was wonderful to see her named to the LOGCOM Hall of Fame and to have the honor to introduce her husband and daughters."

At the conclusion of the team building activities and the tallying of the points, the Logistics Services Management Center was declared the 2015 ERD winner. For a complete listing of awards, team building events, and 2015 ERD pictures, please visit:
<https://extranet.logcom.usmc.mil/erd/ERD2015/Forms/AllItems.aspx>